

All Y-12ers Should Have Blood Type Cards

The need for advanced blood typing has been indicated by national civil defense planning and in furtherance of the Oak Ridge civil defense program every Y-12er and all other Ridge residents are urged to be certain of their blood type both for their own benefit and also that of the community. This appeal has been issued by S. R. Sapirie, manager of the Oak Ridge Operations of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Medical Department Has Data

Most Y-12ers already have been issued cards by the Medical Department giving their blood types. However, those who have not obtained these cards, or have lost them, may get the data from the Medical Department on application.

Employees lacking blood type cards may get them directly from the Y-12 Dispensary merely by asking for them, if the employee has had blood typed during the periodical physical examination given all Y-12ers. For any employee who has not had a blood test and typing, this also will be done if the Y-12er reports to the dispensary for the purpose.

Blood Information Is Important

Blood type information is important for all Y-12ers to have. In case of emergency or accidents in which blood transfusions are needed or asked, it is necessary to know the exact type of blood of a victim or donor before such aid can be given.

Wrens Set Up Housekeeping In Plant Carpenter Shop

"Monkeys iss de cwaziest pipples," was the pet remark of that old facile-faced funnyman Bert Lahr. He might have added that—"boids iss batty, too."

That may—or may not—be true, in the case of a certain Mrs. Wren who recently moved in on and set up housekeeping in the sub-carpenter shop in Bldg. 9723-23. The little feathered creature with the waggly tail has even gone and raised a family, with the valuable assistance of Mr. Wren, who also pays occasional visits to the new home of the Wren family.

Like many females, Mrs. Wren was not to be deterred from her purpose by mere little things like pounding hammers, buzzing saws, chattering humans and what not. Not even the whine of a sander machine disturbed her—for that is right where she poked her little head in and picked out the future Wren residence, right in a dab of sawdust in the machine's outlet.

Stork Finds Way To Nest

That house-hunting tour took place about three weeks ago. After distributing the few twigs that formed the nest, Mrs. Wren found it expedient to stay home for awhile—and, lo and behold, the stork paid a visit (although the quarters appeared a bit cramped.) Five tiny eggs made their appearance and were looked on with proprietary interest by the Y-12ers working in the shop, all of whom by that time had become greatly interested in the goings-on.

In due time, about Wednesday, July 1, four of the eggs yielded to nature and out popped four little chicks (guess baby wrens are called chicks) that were just about as bare as human babies at a corresponding time in life. But maybe the baby wrens had a inante sense of modesty—for in one week's time they had cultivated a quite respectable covering of brown feathers, almost as dark as those of their mamma.

Mrs. and Mr. Wren and the

WESTERN OMELET TOPS THURSDAY SPECIAL LUNCH

A tasty Western omelet will be the appetizing entree on the Thursday Special Lunch at the Y-12 Cafeteria tomorrow, Thursday, July 16. Accompanying the omelet on the 50-cent plate lunch will be a vegetable, choice of salad or dessert and rolls and butter.

First Y-12 Swim Party Draws Crowd Of 300

The first Y-12 Swim Party of the year was held last week at the Oak Ridge Swimming Pool and the event proved to be a howling success.

A crowd of approximately 300 attended the party and many took home prizes after coping honors in the Who's Who contest, which was first on the program. Attractive gifts were awarded to the largest family, oldest man, youngest person present, youngest employee present and a birthday gift to any person whose birthday fell on July 9.

Children Have Big Time

Various games were enjoyed by the children, water volleyball being one of the featured attractions. Probably the most enjoyable act of the night for both the adults and kiddies was the greased watermelon tussle. The winning team was allowed to eat the melon so the participants were

95.68 Per Cent Of Y-12ers Join UCC Savings Plan

3,015 Out Of 3,151 Eligible Employees Accept Thrift Offer

The new Union Carbide and Carbon Corporation Savings Plan with its two alternatives offered Y-12ers has met with a warm reception in the plant with a total of 95.68 per cent of eligible employees enrolled in the plan through last Friday. Only 23 persons interviewed and given an opportunity to enroll rejected the savings system offered by the Corporation.

Out of a total of 3,151 Y-12ers with more than one year of Company service making them eligible to enroll in one or the other of the two alternatives presented, 3,015 signed up for participation in the plan. Of the 3,151 eligible Y-12ers, 1,530 had three or more years of Company service and were eligible for the Personal Savings Account feature of the plan while 1,621 had from one to three years Company service and thereby were eligible to participate in the General Savings Fund.

113 Still Have Opportunity

At the deadline date for enrollment in the plan on last Wednesday, July 8, only 113 Y-12ers who were on vacation or ill had not been reached to determine if they wanted to enroll. These employees will be given an opportunity to enroll as soon as they return to work so that they might participate in the plan's benefits as of July 1.

The attention of Y-12ers again is called to the fact that they have until Thursday, July 24, to make changes in allocations of money deposited in the plan through payroll deductions. The deductions themselves may not be changed, but a realignment of purchase of Union Carbide stock or U. S. Savings Bonds may be made and be-

Y-12ERS HAD A BIG TIME LAST THURSDAY NIGHT AT THE FIRST SWIM PARTY OF the season. Above at left Recreation Supervisor Bill Stanton presents Mrs. E. S. Panter, whose husband works in Research Services, a prize for having the largest family at the event. No, all of those kids aren't hers—just six in her group. Some of the other fine prizes presented are shown on the table. At right some contestants in the horse and rider contest are shown tussling. In the picture are Phil Copeland, Uranium Processing, and Juanita Pitt, Security, on one team; and Bernice Ryan and Al Stanton on another, the third pair not being identified. The Ryan-Stanton team won. More pictures of the party will be printed next week.

Players Pick Several Carbiders As Officers

A number of Carbide employees, several of them in the Y-12 Plant area, are among the new officers of the Oak Ridge Community Playhouse for the 1953-1954 season. Dr. A. D. Callihan, of the Oak Ridge National Laboratory in the Y-12 area, was reelected president of the group at its July meeting when plays chosen for presentation during the coming season were announced.

The other officers elected were Emmett W. Bongar, Carbide, Vice president; Elizabeth Smith, secretary; John Y. Estabrook, Carbide, secretary; and board members Evan Means, Y-12 Electrical Maintenance; Charley Blake and Francois Kertesz, both Oak Ridge National Laboratory employees in Y-12; Mrs. Alvin Weinberg and Jane Wood.

Bongar will be production manager for the next season and Mrs. Wood chairman of the play-reading committee to select productions for the 1954-1955 season. Plays picked for presentation during the 1953-1954 season include "Charley's Aunt," "Bell, Book and Candle," "The Medium and the Telephone," "My Sister Eileen" and "Summer and Smoke."

The following Y-12 employees were patients last week in the Oak Ridge Hospital: Maynard L. Loy, Utilities Maintenance; Wesley C. Dunn, Uranium Processing; Willis Lamb and R. B. Carter, Maintenance Shops; Everett Richardson, Superintendents; Charles A. Frazier, Alloy; Margaret Rainbolt, Medical; Ralph Haney, Engineering; and Freddie Hasley, Janitors.

MATTIONI-GARLAND

Of interest to many Y-12ers is the announcement of the engagement of Miss Tina Mattioni, of Avondale, Pa., to A/2c Richard Wade Garland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Garland, of Oak Ridge. The father of the groom-to-be is with the Y-12 Stores Department.

Miss Mattioni is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gabriele Mattioni, of Avondale.

The bride-elect is a graduate of St. Patrick's Parochial School and the Kennett Consolidated School, Kennett Square, Pa. She received her business training at the Beacon Goldie Business School, Wilmington, Del., and has been employed for three years as an attorney's secretary.

A/2c Garland, a graduate of Oak Ridge High School, was employed in the Engineering Department of Y-12 before joining the Air Force in February, 1951. At present he is stationed at New Castle County Air Force Base, Wilmington.

The wedding is to be held on August 19 at St. Patrick's Church, Kennett Square, Pa., with Father Fenwick performing the ceremony.

Two Y-12 employees were listed as parents of babies born recently at the Oak Ridge Hospital. Michael Getsi, Electrical Maintenance, became father of twins, boy and girl, July 7. R. L. McGinnis, ADP Maintenance, became father of a girl, July 7.

Thanks a lot folks, for the fine vacation pictures you Y-12ers have been turning in. For instance—take a gander at the swell picture story told about how Y-12ers eased the Texas drouth on this page—and a Florida fish photo elsewhere in the paper. There still are some more in the editor's desk—but that particularly insistent guy still wants some more pix of what folks are doing elsewhere. So keep 'em coming. Again, thanks a lot.

Y-12ers Assist Easing Drouth Deep In Texas

"It Was Hot and Dry,
No Rain Up In The Sky
Deep In The Heart Of Texas"—
So a couple of Y-12ers chipped in and did something about it while vacationing in the Lone Star State recently.

The Y-12ers were Margaret Ross Adcock, of Badge and Pass; and her husband, Bill Adcock, of Electrical Maintenance. They were visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ross, at Edinburg, Tex., accompanied by Mrs. H. H. Adcock, of Oak Ridge, mother of Adcock.

Cistern Was Pouring Dust

Edinburg is on the Rio Grande River, which has been reduced to a trickle—and sometimes not even that—because of the unprecedented drouth in the Southwest for many, many months. It so happened that when the Ridge party arrived the Ross cistern, which supplied the house with water from what had been Rio Grande, had begun to pour out dust.

The Adcocks and Rosses saw something had to be done—so decided to dig a well to provide the much needed water. Armed with only a post hole digger, work was started and at just 17 feet sparkling, sweet water was found. The well diggers were much more fortunate than across the street neighbors, whose well struck salt water at the same depth.

Of course, Texans have to be different in a lot of things.

Preferred Water To Oil

According to Margaret Ross Adcock, her father, unlike the picture generally drawn of Texas folks usually thought of as always seeking to strike oil, didn't want to run across a lake of "black gold."

He much preferred the water to save his shrubbery.

Plant Loopers Still Knotted

Engineers And UCJVs Win; 49ers Lose Again

Old Man Weather played havoc with most of the Y-12 Plant Softball League activity last week as only three games were played.

Kidd And Sise In Dual

The Engineers and Uranium Control Junior Varsity remained deadlocked for first place as both teams turned in victories. The Engineers nipped the 49ers, 4 to 2, as Joe Kidd and Ed Sise hooked up in a fine pitching duel. The score was knotted at two each going into the sixth inning when the Engineers exploded for two runs and sewed up the game. Marlar, 49er catcher, slammed a triple for the losers.

The UCJV lads took their victory the easy way by a forfeit from Maintenance.

Peons Pull Twin-Killings

The Peons came through with an 8 to 2 win over the Colts. The Peons pulled two double plays and Art Stewart got three hits to lead the winners. Gene Gardner, Colt shortstop, collected two hits to pace the losers.

In the other contest of the week, Plant Protection whipped ADP 9 to 6. Davis and Wilson collected two hits each to pace the winners. Byrd got two bingles for the losers.

The schedule for the week of July 20 follows:

Monday, July 20—6:15 p.m., Peons vs Plant Protection. 7:45 p.m., Engineers vs UCJV.

Tuesday, July 21—6:15 p.m., Colts vs 49ers. 7:45 p.m., ADP vs Maintenance.

Wednesday, July 22—6:15 p.m., ADP vs UCJV. 7:45 p.m., Peons vs 49ers.

Thursday, July 23—6:15 p.m., Engineers vs Colts. 7:45 p.m., Maintenance vs Plant Protection.

Golf Loop Begins Second Half Of Season; Two New Teams Entered, One Gives Up

With two new teams competing and one of the first half outfits resigning, the Y-12 Plant Golf League started second half of the season play last week. The new teams are the Gophers and Pistols while the Sluggers decided to disband. The schedule provides for one round of play and a Shaughnessy playoff at the end of the season to determine the championship.

Golfers Of Y-12 Defeat Rohm-Haas

The Y-12 varsity golf team kept its record unblemished in the Smoky Mountain League on Sunday when they journeyed to the Holston Hills Country Club in Knoxville and downed the Rohm-Haas team by 15 points to nine. The Y-12ers have not been beaten in league play for two years. In racking up the victory the Y-12ers were led by Carl Dorr with a sparkling 70 with other scores being Danny Berrier 73, Bill Reynolds 76, Bill Bauman 77, Art Hines 79, Jake Burchfield 81, Arnold Tiller 82 and Clyde Bowles 85.

Y-12 Slow Pitchers Play ORNL Tonight

The Y-12 Orioles, the plant's entry in the Oak Ridge Slow Pitch League, didn't get a chance to fly last week as the rainy weather dampened their wings too much and they were unable to carry out their assignment against the Jewish Congregation.

However, the Y-12ers are slated to swing into action again tonight, Wednesday, July 15, at 8 o'clock against the Oak Ridge National Laboratory team. The game is one of four in the league to be staged at Midtown No. 1 diamond.

Cards Scalp Pesky Indians; Meet Wreckers On Saturday

Robins Repel Canton, N. C., Lassies As Big Red Whips Stars; Several Loop Games Set For Both

Those Y-12 Cardinals got the scare of their young lives last Saturday night and had to stage a rousing rally to scalp the pesky Indians from Athens as they prepared for important games with two strong Chattanooga teams on the coming two week ends. The Y-12ers had to tally thrice in the last inning to down the Indians by 7 to 6 and take the season's series by two games to one.

Meanwhile, the Robins took the Canton, N. C., girls into Camp Sunday afternoon by 10 to 3 and the Cards breezed to a victory in an exhibition charity game against the Oak Ridge All Stars by 6 to 0. This one was a benefit to raise funds for a Veterans Of Foreign Wars team to go to a national tournament in Davenport, Iowa. The Stars were all youngsters under 18 chosen from the Recreation League.

Twin Bill Set Saturday

The Cards will entertain the Chattanooga Wreckers at Midtown Park No. 1 Saturday night on a double bill in which the opener will see the Wreckers meeting the Oak Ridge National Laboratory. On the following Saturday, July 25, the Cards go to Chattanooga to play Peerless.

In regular Knox-Ridge League play the Cards are slated to meet Bell Ave. Baptists in Knoxville at 7:30 o'clock tonight, Wednesday, July 15. At the same hour Friday night the Y-12ers play Mascot in Knoxville and at 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday, July 21, play Watson in Knoxville. The Robins are scheduled against Parkmor at 7:30 o'clock tonight in Knoxville and meet the Legionettes of Oak Ridge at Midtown, No. 2 at the same hour Friday night. Next Monday, July 20, the girls go to Corryton.

In their scrap against Athens the Cards were connecting with Phillips' offerings fairly well all through the game, but not until the final innings were the blows falling safely. The Indians had a six-run lead before the Cards opened up and the tying and winning runs came when Montgomery and Pearson scored on Huskisson's blooper to left. Athens touched Bobby Loy for only five bingles, but five Card errors almost spilled the beans.

Velma Soard Hurls No-Hitter

Prior to the busy week end for the Varsity softies, the Y-12 teams each had a pair of games earlier in the week, the Cards winning a pair and the Robins dividing their two. The Cards walloped Ashe Hosiery Mills, Knoxville, in a league match by 15 to 0 and Mascot in an exhibition contest by 11 to 2. The Robins opened the week with a loss to the highly-touted Joe Simpkins Girls of St. Louis by 4 to 0 in a rain-shrunk game and then turned around to swamp K-25 by 30 to 4. Velma Soard hurled a no-hitter in this scrap.

Morris Perry breezed to a pair of mound victories for the Cardinals. Against the Ashe outfit he allowed only two hits and whiffed four while his mates were tormenting the opposition with base blows, including two triples by Huskisson and one each by Simmons and Perry. The Mascot team held the Cards fairly well in check during the first part of the game but the big guns of the Big Red broke out in the closing sessions. Perry struck out 10 in this game and the attack was led by Martin with three hits and homers by Wyrick and Loy.

Robins Pull Triple Play

Against the St. Louis lassies the Robins were held to one lone hit in the five-inning clash, a bunt by Helen Brown. The Robins had the bases bulging in their half of the fifth when the rains came. The visitors got seven hits and profited by six Robin errors. That K-25 game was one of those things as the Y-12 girls clobbered 18 hits and the Bluebellies helped out with eight errors. The Robins posted a triple play in the first inning after the Belles had two runners on Saturday night when they lost their second straight game to the Cleveland, Tenn., Indians, this time by 7 to 5, at the Oak Ridge park. Johnson, Y-12 hurler, whiffed 10 Indians but eight errors by his mates were costly. The Dodgers' Gallaher blasted two triples and a single.

Y-12 SPORTS

HOWARD MANEY, 17, RIGHT, son of a Y-12er, registers for the St. Louis Cardinals tryout session held last week in Oak Ridge by Card Scouts "Buddy" Lewis, center, and Jack Sturdy.

Son Of Y-12er In Card Tryout

Howard Maney Reports With 50 Ridge Boys

Included in the group of 50 promising young hopefuls attending the St. Louis Cardinal baseball tryout camp at Gamble Valley Stadium last week was Howard Maney, 17, son of Herman Maney, of the Y-12 Maintenance Shops.

Howard Tried For Outfield

Howard was an outfield candidate and is a student at the Oak Ridge High School.

The Cardinal tryout camp was conducted by Scouts "Buddy" Lewis and Jack Sturdy. Lewis can be remembered by many followers of baseball as an outstanding major and minor league catcher and infielder for many years. Lewis once performed for the Knoxville Smokies. Sturdy played in the higher minor leagues for many years and was a good bet to make the majors until he developed arm trouble.

All Get Thorough Trial

All of the candidates were given a thorough trial as they demonstrated their throwing and fielding ability and then were divided into separate teams and played a regulation game with the pitchers going three innings each.

This was the first tryout camp ever staged in Oak Ridge and with the attendance as high as it was; it is a sure thing that more will be held in the future.

aboard. The hitter flied to Juanita Pitt in right, whose throw to Helen Brown at second got another runner and a relay to Ruby O'Kain completed the play.

Wren Family Sets Up Housekeeping In Shop

little wrens—they have been named "Eenie, Meenie, Miney and Moe" by their carpenter friends around the shop—are either the most trusting souls in the bird world or else they just ignore their noisy surroundings and busily working humans around the shop. They "carry on" in their home even while the sanding machine is in actual operation. Both parents are continually foraging for their progeny—Mrs. Wren probably more so than the Old Man.

Mamma Wren just flies in and out of the door of the shop, and on every inbound trip she has a tasty morsel for the young 'uns. Audiences don't disturb her, nor the Wren chillun, as they go about their business of dining without hesitation. The Wren family routine has become so much so that the frequent activities of the birds now even fails to cause a carpenter to turn around—except when they want to show off their guests to visitors.

Tribe Maintains Composure

Not even an inquiring reporter and photographer poking around seeking an interview disturbed the aplomb of the featured tribe as they went through their act obligingly.

Hosts of the Wrens are in the Y-12 Field Maintenance Department working under Dan Zehner, general carpenter foreman, and all the boys around the shop will sadly miss their little visitors when they decide to take off—for Wrens are like that, you know—"when they gotta go, they gotta go."

White And Cox Win In Tennis Matches

Two changes were recorded in the Y-12 tennis ladder last week as a pair of challengers displaced players ahead of them in the standings. Herb White blanked Bill DeMarcus in straight sets, 6-0, 6-0; and A. Cox walloped Lee Horton 6-2, 6-0.

Ron Smith and H. Gwinn didn't play during the week and so far John Boyd and Frank Ballenger, top rated players, have not received a challenge. At the end of the week the ladder standing was Boyd, Ballenger, White, DeMarcus, Cox, Horton, Smith and Gwinn.

the Guard Department, and the Missus, have their son, Staff Sgt. Charles R. Dickenson, home on furlough after spending more than a year in Korea. Sergeant Dickenson was one of 29 Tennesseans returning to the states on the U.S.N.S. Gen. M. M. Patrick.

William H. (Willy) Stanton, Jr., who just loves to think up games for Y-12ers, couldn't take it any longer and so took off last Friday night for Florida for a week of vacation—right after getting dunked in the Oak Ridge Pool at his own swimming party. So until he comes back home—that's all for this time.

Y-12 ANGLERS ARE NOT ONLY A SCOURGE TO THE finny tribe around East Tennessee, but also do well by themselves in tackling deep sea denizens, as shown above by the catch Ralph Hankins, Engineering, made recently at Daytona Beach, Fla. The loot included two amber jacks at 42 and 35 pounds each, two cobia of 28 and 20 pounds, five snapper (red and mangrove) ranging from two to 12 pounds, seven bonito, three kingfish and four bass.

Y-12 Woodpeckers Dehorn Elks Team
